INTERESTED PROGRAMMES

IB Diploma · UWC Atlantic

Growing up in São Paulo, I learned early that opportunity is not evenly shared. I spent two years tutoring younger students in my community's library on weekends — what began as homework help became a small reading club of fourteen children. Seeing them grow in confidence taught me that education is the most durable form of hope.

I am drawn to UWC because I want to learn alongside people whose lives have been shaped by circumstances different from my own. I believe the deepest learning happens when difference is not smoothed over but understood. At Atlantic, I hope to study marine science and continue the community work that has defined my life so far — carrying it into a context far larger than my neighbourhood.

4 Referee Statement

"Sofia is among the most quietly determined students I have taught in twenty years. She does not seek attention, yet others gravitate to her — in group work she is the one who makes sure every voice is heard. Her reading club was entirely her own initiative; she sourced the books, set the schedule, and never once asked for recognition. She has the rare combination of intellectual seriousness and genuine warmth that UWC is built for. I recommend her without reservation."
